

Contact: Jeremy Engdahl-Johnson
Milliman, Inc.
Tel: +1 646 473 3021
jeremy.engdahl-johnson@milliman.com

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Press Release

Milliman awards 16 Opportunity Scholarships in the program's second year

SEATTLE – August 8, 2018 – Milliman, Inc., a premier global consulting and actuarial firm, is pleased to announce the recipients of this year's Opportunity Scholarship program. This scholarship program, now in its second year, was created to assist students from ethnic groups and races that are under-represented in the fields of actuarial science, data science, computer science, economics, programming, mathematics, statistics, data analytics, or finance.

This year, the Opportunity Scholarship recipients include 16 students from colleges and universities across the United States, Australia, South Africa, and the United Kingdom who have demonstrated academic excellence and plan to pursue a career in actuarial science or related fields. Last year, which was the inaugural year of the scholarship, 12 scholarships were presented.

"Milliman is proud to assist students from diverse backgrounds in achieving their educational goals in fields like actuarial science, mathematics, computer science, and finance," said Milliman Chief Executive Officer Steve White. "This year's group of recipients comes from a wide array of backgrounds and has shown that they excel academically, with the drive and knowledge to succeed."

Below is the list of this year's Scholarship recipients:

1. Victor Asiwe, actuarial science, at University of Cape Town (South Africa)
2. Aleesha Chavez, computer science, at Northwest Nazarene University (Idaho)
3. Khethiwe Dlamini, actuarial science, at University of the Free State - Bloemfontein (South Africa)
4. Jordan Howell, actuarial science, at Kettering University (Michigan)
5. Jael Kerandi, finance, at University of Minnesota- Twin Cities
6. Rachael King, mathematics, at Macquarie University (Australia)
7. Adam Lathan, actuarial science and data analytics, at Drake University (Iowa)
8. Richard Machivenyika, actuarial science, at University of Cape Town
9. Mapule Madzena, computer science, at University of the Free State - Bloemfontein
10. Jennifer Mora-Amaya, actuarial science, at St. John's University (New York)
11. Sonia Moreno, computer science, at Carleton College (Minnesota)
12. Sarah Peña, actuarial science, at UCLA
13. Bryce Santiago Badura, computer science, at University of Notre Dame (Indiana)
14. Ayomikun Vaughan, actuarial science, at Queen's University of Belfast
15. Edwin Villavicencio, actuarial science, at North Central College (Illinois)
16. Mattie Zimmer, mathematics, at University of New Orleans

Five of this year's recipients also received Opportunity Scholarships last year. Those repeat recipients are Khethiwe Dlamini, Jordan Howell, Sonia Moreno, Sarah Peña, and Ayomikun Vaughan.

About Milliman

Milliman is among the world's largest providers of actuarial and related products and services. The firm has consulting practices in healthcare, property & casualty insurance, life insurance and financial services, and employee benefits. Founded in 1947, Milliman is an independent firm with offices in major cities around the globe. For further information, visit milliman.com.